Club Newsletter for November 2013

President's Krausening

By Todd Donnelly

Greetings fellow SNOBs!

October was a great month - hope you had your chance to take advantage of the amazing beer-centric events that dominated the month. Cleveland Beer Week is a great chance to try craft beers, go to bars you've never been to, participate in awesome beer and food pairings, and in general have a blast.

The whole week ends with Cleveland's version of the GABF - Brewzilla! Lots of beers to taste in one suds filled evening. Much thanks to all the SNOBs who helped as volunteers throughout the week and for Brewzilla, these events couldn't happen without you! To say thanks, Beer Week organizer Christine Montague has donated a lot of their 'left over beer' to the SNOBs - you'll see a lot of it used in our raffle this week and at our upcoming competition and as a special thank you to our Brewzilla volunteers - a much appreciated gesture!

This is our last formal meeting for the year and I think you will enjoy it! We will wrap up our elections for 2014 Officers and be able to get the process started for a great transition into next year's agenda and events. We'll have an introductory lesson to electric brewing with Jeff Bradbury - not an all-encompassing lesson as that would be an entire meeting itself, but enough to get you intrigued about this option to traditional stovetop or propane burners. I've seen Jeff's setup and I've tasted his awesome homebrew, so I know it works quite well.

The majority of the meeting will be dedicated to a custom Beer & Food Pairing session brought to us by our very own Bob Wright! Your taste buds will be lead down a wonderful path of several pairings and Bob will go into detail on what makes a pairing successful and what to look for. This should be a real treat for everyone who can make it. I've been saving this topic for last to make sure we end the year with a bang!

We have our annual Christmas Party scheduled for Friday Dec 6th, details to be discussed at the meeting but this is the one event per year that you do NOT want to miss. We'll need a head count so we can plan for seating and the food so expect a sign-up sheet and email RSVP. Dust off your ugliest Xmas sweater, bring a few bottles of extra special beer or homebrew to share, and participate in the bottle exchange if you are interested - it's a fantastic time.

The weekend of November 22-23 is our last big event of the year - Son of Brewzilla - the SNOBs annual homebrewing competition. Hopefully you have all been brewing up a storm to get entries ready. Now we need your help as judges, stewards, cellar helpers, and scanning/data entry assistance. We'll discuss details at the meeting, but the general flow of events will start off with a social event on Friday night at the Fatheads Production facility at 18741 Sheldon Rd near the airport. We'll finish the drop off of entries, enjoy some of Matt's fine suds and food with special SNOBs discounts, we'll have an awesome raffle with lots of swag and beer, and get ready for Saturday!

This is going to be a BIG competition - we capped the event at 600 entries and it looks like we'll hit that number. That's bigger than any competition the area has seen in a long time so we're looking for you to help out! We can still use sponsorships, judges and volunteers so see co-Organizers Mike Ontolchik and Greg Irving to offer your assistance. See you there!

I mentioned to the club at the September meeting that something special was in the works with Great Lakes Brewing Co. I attended their "Summerian Beer Event" back in August where they have replicated a 4000 year old recipe based on what brewing beer was like back in the cradle of civilisation. They provided a great historical review of beer history and their process to replicate it, and then provided several samples of what they are making - using very old-school methods all the way up to their modern equipment.

I talked to GLBC owner Pat Conway afterwards and asked if they'd be interested in doing a similar event for SNOBs. The answer is YES. We will discuss some dates in November where this event will be held in their tasting room just for us. Lots of GLBC regular beers, the history lessons, and the tasting panel of these ancient beers will all be on tap for us. Dates are limited as we're coming into the holidays so we'll nail down one and see if it will work. If not, we can look into the new year for this special session.

I'll send out one more "year end" newsletter before the Xmas party. I hope to see everyone at the meeting Monday and at the competition. It's been a great year and I can't wait to end it in style!

Thanks

Todd

Submit Your Proposal for a National Homebrewers Conference Seminar

The 2014 AHA National Homebrewers Conference will take place June 12-14 in Grand Rapids, Mich. Proposals for seminars are now being accepted and will be reviewed by the American Homebrewers Association Governing Committee Conference Subcommittee, Local Conference Committee, and AHA staff. This year's conference theme, Mashing in Michigan, will cover a broad range of educational seminars focused on a variety of topics. Suggested topics of interest include, but are not limited to:

- Homebrewing, cidermaking or meadmaking processes
- Homebrewing equipment
- Ingredients (such as malted barley, hops, water, yeast, honey, apples, alternative ingredients, spices, etc.)
- Going Pro (professional brewers, brewery owners, homebrew shop owners, etc.)
- Beer styles
- Homebrew retail
- Tasting and judging beer
- Forming and maintaining a club

Interested parties are asked to review the Presentation Guidelines & Requirements and Submit a Proposal for a Seminar or Poster. Please have a head shot (photo) and brief bio ready for each presenter when submitting the proposal form. Proposals will be collected until December 13, 2013.
