Bob's Your Uncle – It's British Beers!

We are so excited to have our first in-person meeting since last fall!

The May meeting will feature mild British Styles – 8 SNOBs have brewed beers for the meeting. Each of the brewers will give a brief overview of their styles and we'll get to sample them all. Cara Baker will pick one for a future SNOB collaboration together with Immigrant Son Brewing.

In addition, if you ordered a t-shirt they will be available for pick up, so be sure to bring cash ($10 for small-xl, $15 for larger).

Please know that current restaurant COVID rules will apply to the meeting. E.g. Masks on while walking around and drinking / eating at tables only.

CHRISTMAS PARTY REPLACES JULY MEETING

Saturday, June 26: Christmas in July BBQ

@ Sachs Beer Garden - Catered by Grumpy

Thank you to Ralph and Drew for making some great wort!

The brewers picked up their wort from Terrestrial yesterday and are all busily making delicious brews! The first Christmas party will replace our July meeting and will feature the Big Brew competition. Ralph and Terrestrial will be onsite to pick one for a collaboration brew in the autumn. We'll have two prizes – one for best holiday style and one for all the remaining beers.

You must be a paid member to attend. Sign up sheet coming soon!

November Meeting Preview

We'll have another tasting meeting in November. We will be featuring Strong Styles like Imperial Stouts, Barleywine, and Strong Ales. These styles can take longer to brew, so if you are interested in participating start thinking and planning now!

Let Jay know if you would like to participate by sending an email to president@beersnobs.org

President's Krausening

I was out and about last night dropping off our containers at Terrestrial for the Big Brew and ran into several SNOBs at the bar. Then later at the Sachsenheim for Grumpy's Springfest I ran into another dozen or more SNOBs. Sure, everyone wore their masks in and until they were seated, but it truly felt just like pre-pandemic times. It was great to be out and bumping into other members at our favorite spots. The combination of vaccines and warmer weather are making this spring feel extra special.

These warm summer days have me thinking of our craft breweries and all the outdoor spots we have to savor our city's beer. Cleveland might not be in a warm weather climate, but our breweries certainly have many ways to take advantage of the warm weather months. Clevelanders have some great patios and outdoor spots to enjoy. Whether a private beer garden like Forest City, sidewalk seating at Great Lakes, a patio overlooking a park full of dogs at Terrestrial, or Market Garden's large outdoor area complete with fireplace, we are blessed with many choices of outdoor spots to sample tasty beers and people watch. I hope to share a cold brew with many of you this summer in one of our many outdoor venues.

Cheers,

Jay

Get Involved!

We know this seems early to be talking about this. But we want to ask if anyone has an interest in getting a little more involved in the club this year and becoming an officer next year. This year you could help plan a meeting or two, a night out or an activity or event. We'd especially like to recruit some of our younger members to get involved in running the club and to keep the club moving forward. Let any officer know if you are interested.
